About Marianne

Marianne Hynes is a transformational author, coach, senior consultant, entrepreneur, and speaker who guides women in reclaiming their voice, breaking free from conditioning and limiting beliefs, and living boldly on their own terms. With two decades of corporate leadership experience and a psychology degree, combined with her studies in Women's Centred Coaching, Marianne draws on her personal transformation experience to guide others toward authenticity, courage, and freedom.

Her first book, UNMUTED, shares raw personal stories, insights and practical tools to help readers unlearn conditioning and embrace their brilliance. Marianne has spoken at business plus health & wellbeing conferences and contributed to media conversations on psychological safety and human performance. She enjoys providing consulting and coaching services to value-aligned organisations and clients through her business, Quantum Leap Global.

Marianne Outside of Work

A lifelong learner and adventurer, Marianne surfs, plays tennis, gardens, cooks, and cherishes life with her rescue animals, family, and friends.

Guided by freedom, compassion, integrity and a cheeky sense of fun, Marianne inspires others to rise unmuted, with courage, to live undeniably as themselves.

Marianne's Vision

My vision is to create a ripple effect of women rising together, supporting, encouraging, and inspiring one another to live a life unmuted. A life grounded in compassion, truth, and respect for ourselves and each other.

When one woman finds her voice and rises, she becomes a light for those to follow. Together, we create a wave of change that helps restore harmony and balance to a world that has long been out of tune.

This is how we rise: side by side, one person at a time.

Her gentle encouragement and simple exercises invite you to rediscover, understand, and confidently speak your truth in everyday life. If you've ever felt unheard, invisible, or a little off-track, Unmuted is an essential companion."
